

CALIFORNIA CARDS & SYSTEMS INC.

COMPLETE SMART CARD SOLUTIONS. California Cards & Systems Inc. established in 1993, provides turnkey solutions for the emerging Smart Card markets in the US and India. Its headquarters is located in Palo Alto, California. Since its establishment, CCS has participated in this growth industry with the greatest emphasis on providing customer satisfaction. It has established its operations in California and India. Both organizations are staffed and supported by technical advisors, analytical engineers and software experts dedicated to deliver complete smart card solutions.

California Cards & Systems works with major hardware manufacturers world wide to provide customers with up to date products in a timely fashion. CCS develops software solutions, which are optimized for each application, thus creating a niche business for its customers. It develops solutions with superior features that improve the performance of each product, ultimately enabling the user to gain a competitive advantage. We believe that our company's success depends solely on the success and satisfaction of its customers.

PRODUCTS AND SERVICES: CCS has developed an extensive array of software kernels and drivers for hardware components using its Smart Builder. These software modules are configured to run under different industry standard operating systems. CCS software products provide seamless integration of various hardware components optimized for each application. It is the flexibility of the Smart Builder modules that allow CCS to customize the complete system for each application at lower prices. CCS technical experts have in-depth experience in analyzing the application and developing optimized configurations.

MARKET PRESENCE: CCS has designed and developed various demonstration systems and pilots. Major Semiconductor companies are using these demonstration kits as their marketing tools. Several systems have been installed as pilots both in the US and India. We are pursuing opportunities in different business areas like ID cards, Campus cards, and Driver's license. We also work with data collection and storage for motor companies, cards for medical professionals and hospitals, loyalty cards etc.

STRATEGIC ALLIANCES: In addition to its dedicated software development team in the USA, California Cards & Systems Inc. has strategic alliances with major corporations in India to provide local solutions. It also has excellent working relations with smart card hardware manufacturers in the US and Europe.

PROFESSIONALS: As systems integrators, we are not measured by our technology alone. It is the people who make the technology work that provide the most value. With this philosophy in mind CCS has assembled a team of experts. The management has devoted a lot of time to carefully hand picking each qualified member of this unique group. The team of software professionals have extensive experience in this field in addition to advanced degrees obtained from prestigious universities. Our team is available to answer your hardware and software questions. We will analyze your issues and will work with you to find an optimized solution within your budget.

Our goal is to provide quality products, which are efficient, innovative and competitively priced.
